Language school Sellside

Region	Austria, worldwide
Industrial sector	Education / Language school
Title	Chinese language school for sale in Austria
Short description	An Austrian language school for Chinese has come up for sale, creating an exciting opportunity for a buyer to expand his business or for those who are interested in entering into this market. The school has already been running very successfully, however currently it is not operating due to a shortage of managing capacity. Therefore the school is fully prepared to be re-started immediately by the new owner. Based in the capital of Austria and Munich the school is specializing in the language of the fastest growing economy of the world and running both 24-level-courses as well as specialty courses with the focus on “economy” and “travelling”. Within 4 years of development a unique language-course was designed by European and Chinese language teachers together. Already after passing the first level the students are able to read, write and understand basic Chinese expressions. The advantages of booking a course in this particular language school and with that the USP of buying this school are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A course can be started by a student at any time. • A wide variety of teaching methods allows to adjust to individual circumstances. • The educational staff from China leads the student through the entire course which enables the students to get acquainted with the use of language by native speakers quickly. • The courses can be attended at the language center as well as at home or on the way. • For every course level access is granted to an online vocabulary training programme with a special feature to train pronunciation. • For every course level 3 different books are available - an exercise book, a vocabulary book and a grammar book. • The students are not only taught in speaking, but also in reading and writing Chinese symbols. Currently there exists no Chinese language school offering all of the above. When opening seven language schools in-line with the above described model, the school would immediately have market leadership in Germany. Together with the thoroughly planned course material comes a specific management programme for all administrative tasks particular to language schools. This programme offers separate client administration for branch offices including offer administration, book keeping, monitoring payments, administration of the multimedia training and vocabulary training. Furthermore a full package of marketing material including its own homepage has already been developed for this school. Besides the financing needs, it would be necessary to hire a new management team for the school. The educational staff could be immediately re-hired. Also a translation of the German part of the services into f.ex. English can be done easily.

The company develops inflatable solar concentrators using the most extreme lightweight construction technology for large-scale solar thermal power plants. HELIOVIS was founded in 2009 and is headquartered in Wr Neudorf. The company is owned by 17 co-ordinated private individuals from Austria, Switzerland, Germany and Saudi Arabia. An experienced management team, which consists of Dr Felix Tiefenbach, Switzerland, founder and CEO, experimental and quantum physicist, and Dr Wolfram Krendlesberger, Austria, economist and business administrator, runs HELIOVIS. In 2013 the company started operations and extensive and successful tests of their first pilot system in the Sunbelt (Spain). At present HELIOVIS operates pilot plants in Austria and Spain. The test results (incl. first prototypes on the water) are very positive. Development will continue in 2014 & 2015 (including several market entries). In 2016, the company plans to participate in an annual consortium tender submission in Saudi Arabia with suitable partners for a ≥ 5 MW CSP plant. Market Overview:  <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ A Concentrated Solar Power (CSP) plant uses the heat of the sun as a primary source of energy by the bundling of sunlight. ▪ Compared to photovoltaic systems, it enables the integration of a low-cost energy storage system. HELIOVIS' solar concentrator causes lowest cost per kWh of 9.5 €-Cent (incl. 8h thermal storage) and lowest CO₂-emissions over the entire lifecycle of the power plant. The advantages of solar thermal power plants are therefore apparent, especially in sunny locations with high storage requirements. ▪ Various studies, including a study conducted by the German Aerospace Center (DLR), have shown that CSP offers great potential for commercial energy production in the desert regions of North Africa and the Middle East as well as in the arid southern regions of the United States and Europe. Investment Opportunity - takeover and active development: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Since its founding in 2009, approx. EUR 10 mio have been invested in the company. ▪ This project might be feasible and attractive for entrepreneurial investors with a particular solar background. Investors will be sought for the next two years (H2 2014, 2015, H1 2016) for financing of up to a maximum of EUR 9 mio and for a long-term partnership. ▪ There are several takeover and investment options - we are very open for further discussions and ideas in a next step.

Targets with future-oriented Buyside / Investment

Region	Europe (preferred Austria, Germany, Switzerland), North America
Industrial sector	Automotive safety, (precision) engineering & technology
Title	Seeking investment opportunities automotive safety or other innovative industry
Short description	An Austrian privately owned group of companies is looking to expand its business. The group is currently engaged in the following two main areas of business which produce a variety of products for different industries: automotive safety systems and precision technology. Its main operations include plastic moulding, punching and die cutting, fine mechanics, pyrotechnics and precision technology. The group is seeking investment opportunities fulfilling the following criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The company the investment is to be made in should either be engaged in the same area of business as the investor or at least complement the group's lines of business. i.e. it should also be a manufacturing company either producing the same products or being engaged in upstream or downstream industries. Alternatively, the company is also interested in future-oriented technology products, which are suitable for series production. • It is essential that the target is not merely engaged in trading but in manufacturing. • In general, the company should target a niche (with at least the potential to be the market leader in this niche) or should make unique propositions to its customers. In other words the investor is not looking for mass production of commodities. The investor is particularly interested in supporting future-oriented industries, engaged in the production of electronic devices, environmental technologies, energy or similar. • The company should either be based in the so-called DACH-region (Germany, Austria, Switzerland), rest of Europe or in North America. Depending on where the company is based, the group has defined further restraints on the target: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ A potential target in North America should definitely not be engaged in any other but the automotive safety industry. Furthermore, it needs to be an existing and operating company including a management team. ✓ The industries in the DACH-region and rest of Europe can range from automotive, clean technology to medical or any other future-oriented technology. Investments in the DACH-region are even possible into companies with restructuring needs. Important for companies in the DACH-region is that the investor may also take over management functions.
